Re: Letter of Support for Next Gen Leaders –
Michelle Lingenfelser, MidWest Vascular Access

To Whom it May Concern:

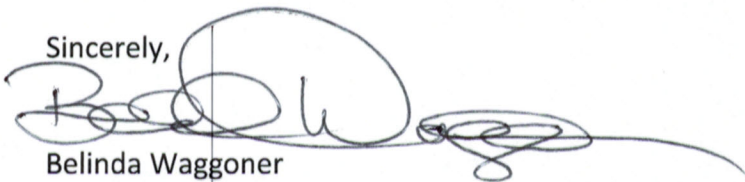

Hr-haven has had the pleasure of working with Michelle Lingenfelser at MidWest Vascular Access (MWVA) for the past two years. MWVA is a mobile IV team, staffed by registered nurses who are vascular access specialists providing the clinical services that an IV team would provide in a large medical center to any facility, large or small, that needs such services but does not have the skilled professionals to provide this exceptional level of service and medical care.

We have had the privilege of watching Michelle grow her practice specializing first in exceptional patient care, and second in providing a nursing environment based on continual learning and exceptional clinical standards. Before we worked with Michelle, we had no concept of the expertise involved in placement of difficult peripheral IVs, midlines, and peripherally inserted central catheters (PICCs) – all with patient care at the forefront of what they do combined with timely service to the facilities they support.

Her support of the profession is obvious, her support of her employees and the values of the organization is admirable. Her commitment to her patients and her staff, especially through the utilization of ongoing education is invaluable to the facilities she supports and to the expertise that she and her team can provide.

She is an astute business person – taking care of business at every turn. Therefore, we have no qualms in providing this letter of support in her nomination for Next Gen Leaders.

Sincerely,
